Jacaranda Industries created an architecturally customised factory, which has given Barden Steeldeck Industries increased capacity. The porcelain tiles, staircase, glass partitions, reception area, kitchen joinery, factory and office deserve a special note for the quality of material and workmanship. Working closely with the architect, Jacaranda Industries was able to mesh materials to provide a lavish office and an efficient factory. The construction of this factory required project management expertise and can be easily compared to an inner city office.
